

EXPERIENCE SHARING PEER GROUPS

The peers who understand your reality - and challenge you on it.

Small groups. Full confidentiality. Real farm visits. Facilitated peer learning for owners, leaders and specialists of international farm businesses.

WHY IT MATTERS

The decisions that shape your farm rarely come with a manual

Whether you are optimising a pig unit, managing crop rotation, developing your team or steering the whole business, you know the feeling of standing alone with a complex decision.

A DFA peer group changes that. You meet with 10-12 people who run businesses like yours and are willing to share what actually works - and what failed.

“ You realise very quickly that someone else has already made the mistake you were about to make - and solved it.

THE CORE PROMISE

Better decisions through trusted peer intelligence and real-world knowledge sharing.

WHAT YOU GAIN

Value at every level of the business

For the company	For the participant
• Stronger decisions through trusted peer intelligence • Faster learning from farms facing the same challenges • Fewer costly mistakes through honest benchmarking • Practical comparison across countries and production systems • Leadership development with real international exposure • Fresh perspectives on labour, technology and regulation	• A trusted group that functions like a personal advisory board • Honest sparring on real challenges - not theory • Ideas you can put to work the following week • A safe space to test decisions before acting • Exposure to other farms, systems and ways of working • A network you can call when the decision is difficult

HOW IT WORKS

A structured format built around commitment and trust

1 Farm & company visits See how others operate at scale - and bring concrete ideas home.	2 Professional facilitation A dedicated DFA facilitator keeps the agenda relevant and practical.
3 Careful matching We match role, production area, company size and international exposure.	4 Multiple group types Crops, livestock, HR, middle management and top management.

READY TO FIND THE RIGHT PEER GROUP?

Tell us the role, responsibility area and priorities of the person you would like to enroll - and we will match them to the right group.
